Supervisors tighten budget after loss

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors plans to hold down the county's budget increases for fiscal year 1986-87 to compensate for a loss in revenue sharing funds.

The board's annual public hearing on the proposed budget will be included in today's meeting.

The board is expected to vote on adoption of the proposed budget after any objections are heard.

In planning the 1986-87 budget, the board has had to deal with a decrease in revenue sharing funds.

Cuts in revenue sharing have resulted in a loss of 27 percent of the revenue that normally goes into the county general fund and 73 percent of the revenue used as road and bridge funds, Hancock County Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise said.

The loss to the general fund is $108,000. The loss to road and bridge totals $292,000.

In addition, the board is faced with some loss of revenue resulting from legislation that allows owner-occupied single family residences to be assessed at a rate of 10 percent rather than 15 percent.

In addition, the county will not have the carryovers in individual districts' road and bridge funds that in the past was added to new road and bridge revenues, Necaise said.

The proposed budget totals about $12 million, according to County Comptroller Ken Walker.

Walker said that total includes the general fund, which covers most of the county's expenses other than road and bridge funds, and several new funds that were not included in the budget in the past.

Those funds include mostly fees collected through the county for the state, like penitentiary and ambulance fees; debt service fees; and other items in which the revenues and expenditures cancel out each other.

Out of that figure, $8,445,825 is the actual amount of operating funds expected to be used by the county during the 1986-87.

The county's operating funds budgeted for the current fiscal year, which ends September 30, total $8,319,496.

The general county fund for 1986-87's proposed budget includes $4,005,787, which will be used to support all of the day-to-day operations of county government other than road and bridge construction and maintenance.

The proposed budget also contains a $500,000 carryover that will help stretch the resources of the general fund during October, November and December 1987 until January 1988 tax revenues become available.

According to Necaise, the different fiscal years required by law for counties and for tax collections make some amount of carryover in

Bay council requests county retain road funds, maintenance

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Bay St. Louis Councilmen plan to voice objections to the return of all maintenance funds and responsibilities to the city at today's Hancock County Supervisors meeting.

The supervisors voted last week to return 100 percent of all Road and Bridge Maintenance funds collected within the city and turn over all maintenance responsibilities to the city.

In a special meeting Tuesday the council passed a resolution requesting the supervisors hold in abeyance their proposal on the Road and Bridge funds.

At this meeting the councilmen discussed the several aspects of the supervisors proposal that are unclear.

These include the "extent of maintenance services covered by the rebate arrangement, the participation of municipal resident in the benefits provided by other county funds, the status of general revenue sharing, the effects on the municipal tax base of the recent constitutional amendment changing the assessment ration on residential property and the uncertainty of homestead exemption reimbursements on the road and bridge funds."

City Council President Lisa Cowand believes the council needs a specific definition of "maintenance responsibilities."

Bay Mayor Victor J. Franckiewicz said with so many unanswered questions, the acceptance of the funds will be a "very risky" thing to do.

The supervisors have been providing the city with services valued at more than the 100 percent of funds that will be returned to the city, Councilman Wilmer Seymour said.

"I like things just as they are and would like to hold off the return of these funds if possible," he added.

Diamondhead burglary suspect arrested

A Poydras, La. resident has been arrested in connection with a July burglary of a Diamondhead residence.

Hancock Criminal Investigator Glen Strong said, "Daniel Lee Demary, 20, 2220 E. Christie Park,

A Colt pistol and a diamond ring were recovered, Strong stated.

Hancock Deputy Sheriff George Burleson assisted in the investigation.

Lightning strikes twice, in different places !!!

BEDROOM BLAST—Tanya Layne, 17, and her brother Tommy, 15, survey damages to her stereo set which was blown apart by lightning which blasted into a front bedroom of their residence at 313 Main St. in Bay St. Louis about noon Monday. The lightning traveled along a telephone line attached to the outside of the house, came through the bedroom window breaking several panes, and traveled along a curtain rod to the stereo. The curtain, right, on that window was badly burned, and the interior window framing, left, was severely scorched. Although the two teenagers and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Layne, were all home at the time, no one was in the affected bedroom. Thomas (Lucky) Lane was taking a shower and Mrs. Shirley Layne was using the telephone. Layne said he did not feel the lightning in the shower, but Shirley Layne did hear the blast through the telephone receiver which resulted in temporary ear distress. Tommy Layne said "a bright red ball of fire" flashed on the television screen. None of the family members was injured. Thomas Layne reported Wednesday some $2,600 in damages were caused by the strike. Bay St. Louis firemen responded. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

MINOR DAMAGE—The weekend residence of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Rome of Harvey, La. sustained minor damage Monday, Aug. 11 from a fire which appears to have been caused by a lightning strike on a nearby tree, according to Waveland Fire Chief David Garcia. He said the lightning apparently struck a pine tree, jumped to a cypress tree and travelled along power lines to the light socket in the northeast rear bedroom of the house on Timballer

Street in Shoreline Park. Damage was restricted to the mattresses and a nearby wall, he said. In addition to eight firefighters from Waveland, volunteers from the East Hancock fire district also responded to the alarm. Garcia said the reason the damage was so restricted was the quick report of the fire by a neighbor. (Staff photo by Randy Ponder)

County to finalize budget, tax rolls

BY DENA BISNETTE
 The Hancock County Board of Supervisors is expected to consider its budget for the 1986-87 fiscal year and the county's real and personal property rolls today in addition to other matters.

The annual public hearing on the budget is set for 10 a.m. Final adoption of the budget is expected after the hearing is closed.

The final budget will then be made available for public inspection.

In addition, the board is scheduled to finalize the county's real and personal property tax rolls.

The tax rolls were presented at an earlier meeting and the board has been recessing meetings on a day-to-day basis in order to hear any objections.

Also on today's agenda is a discussion with members of the Bay St. Louis City Council.

The council is expected to provide the supervisors with their opinions concerning the board's Aug. 4 decision to return road and bridge maintenance money collected through county taxes to the cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

The cities usually receive about half the funds, which total $67,800 for Bay St. Louis and $54,800 for Waveland.

The other half is generally returned in road-related services.

The Bay council, which discussed the matter at a special meeting Tuesday, is against the move.

The board is also expected to hear a protest from several Bayou Phillips, BaySide Park and Lakeshore residents who are protesting the selection of five commissioners for the recently created BaySide Park Fire Protection District.

The spokesman for the group, Martin DiSalvo of Bayou Phillips, said Monday he plans to take a delegation to the board meeting to ask for the supervisors' help in changing the members of the board of commissioners.

Military to burn toxic wastes at Seabee Base

The Air Force will burn Agent Orange -contaminated soil at the Naval Construction Battalion Center in Gulfport as part of an experimental waste-disposal project, the Associated Press reported this week.

The environmental Protection Agency last week issued temporary permits to vaporize the dioxin-contaminated soil in portable incinerators and to monitor the surrounding air, land and water, spokesman Carl Terry said.

It will be the first time the process has been used, Terry said.

Air Force spokesman Maj. Jim Heaberg said the soil, on 18 acres of the Battalion Center, was contaminated by leaking Agent Orange tanks during the Vietnam war.

Dioxin is a contaminant sometimes formed during the manufacture of Agent Orange, an extremely toxic herbicide that was used by the Air Force to defoliate jungles in southeast Asia.

Some servicemen who handled Agent Orange have said it is responsible for health problems and birth defects in their children.

About 850,000 gallons of Agent Orange were stored at the Seabee base from 1967 to 1977 before being incinerated at sea aboard the Dutch ship Vulcanus.

The material to be incinerated is called concrete-stabilized soil and is made up of asphalt, pea gravel, sand, crushed shells, soil and cement, Heaberg said.

The $5.4 million disposal project is expected to have nationwide ramifications because it radically reduces the cost of disposal, Terry said.

The closed thermal incinerator, which burns the soil twice, can reduce the cost from $3,000 a ton to $350 to $600 a ton because the contaminated material doesn't have to be transported, he said.

Both the incineration and the monitoring will take place 24 hours a day, seven days a week, Terry said.

The incinerator is being brought to Gulfport aboard 18-wheelers, Heaberg said.

The burning process will continue until December or early January.

It will be monitored by the Navy and two private laboratories, Heaberg said. A permanent facility is located in Arkansas, but there is no other portable incinerator, he said.

The actual incineration process is closed and the contaminants are vaporized by temperatures "several thousand degrees Fahrenheit," Heaberg said. There is no danger to residents or wildlife, he said.

"What comes out of the stack is basically carbon dioxide and water. There are no traces of contaminants," Heaberg said.

Air Force officials say no dangerous levels of dioxin have been found in the area outside the Navy site.

County schools' property insurance prices double due to hurricane damage claims

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
Premiums will double for Hancock County School District property insurance for the coming year, and to make matters worse the increased cost will provide less coverage.
Hancock along with several other school districts on the coast have been dropped by insurance companies this year and had to purchase insurance at the state contract price.
For the past three years, Hancock has paid premiums of approximately $36,000 for $7.5 million of coverage, Tommy Brooks of Nationwide Insurance told the board last week at a special meeting.

That same, coverage will cost $140,000 a year now, he added.
The district was able to get insurance for under $80,000 with reduced coverage through the Mississippi Insurance Underwriters Association. The MUIA was set up by the state following the devastation of Hurricane Camille in 1969.
"Due to the excessive claims for damage by the hurricane last year I don't think you will be able to find any coverage except through MUIA," Brooks said.

According to Brooks he had called several agencies from throughout the state but was unable to find any other than MUIA to offer a policy.
"Your insurance expires at 12:01 a.m. on Sunday and you can not go a minute uncovered," he said.
Brooks compared the insurance policy change to going from a Cadillac to a Studebaker."

He also told the board the new insurance would be basically an "act of God" policy, covering only such damages caused by fire, wind, rain, hail, lightning, etc.

There will be no coverage for theft, vandalism or malicious mischief, he added.

The board voted to accept the insurance from the MUIA Thursday and coverage began under the new policy at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 9.

Although my fishing skills - and luck of the lure - seem to have lessened with the years, I'm still lucky enough to feast with regularity on just-out-of-the-waters delicacies, thanks to Carol Surgi's prowess with rod and reel, not to mention her generosity - and that of George, her spouse, who cleans the catch! Lucky, lucky me!

So trout meuniere and fresh-fried mullet and baked fish and so on and so on are often delights at my table, with Peanuts-the-Cat, of course, loudly demanding his fair share of the bounty.

Though trout meuniere is one of my all time favorites, I decided the other day, when Carol had given me several small-to-medium delicious trout, that I would range a bit afield at the stove.

So, after I had enjoyed sauteed trout with a sauce of fresh lemon and fresh parsley from my herb garden, I separated the remainder of the trout meat from the bones - some in large pieces, some in smaller chunks or flakes.

Some, I reserved for trout vinaigrette or marinated trout for a luscious cold dish; and some I set apart for an old-fashioned Creole dish, trout sauce piquante. So, here, proportions increased, is:

TROUT SAUCE PIQUANTE
Trout (can use other firm-fleshed fish) about 2 1/2 to 3 lbs. in all, cut into chunks,

4 Tbsp. shortening or oil
2 medium onions, cut fine
1 can tomato paste (or fresh tomatoes cut up, with juice)
1/2 Tsp. sugar
1/2 Cup chopped bell (green) pepper
1/2 Cup chopped celery
1 Cup water
2 Tsp. Garlic, chopped fine
4 Tbsp. chopped parsley
1/2 Cup green onions
Pepper, salt to taste
Fry the onions in the shortening or oil until brown, then add the tomato paste, and cook a bit until the oil or fat comes to the top. Add the sugar, and continue cooking for another five minutes or so.

Add the bell pepper, celery and garlic, and stir well. Add the water, and cook for about an hour over a slow, slow fire. Add the green onions, parsley and chunks of fish, adding pepper and salt to taste.

Cover the pot and cook slowly for several minutes or so, or until the fish is cooked. Do not overcook - that's the cardinal rule of fish cookery, as you know.

If you're using cooked fish, as I was, just heat in the sauce. If raw fish, it will, of course take longer, perhaps 10 to 20 minutes, depending upon the fish. Serve with rice. (Four to six servings.)

Mississippi Power's rates to be performance-based

The state Public Service Commission has approved a new rate making process for Mississippi Power Company that bases electric rates on the company's performance.

The Performance Evaluation Plan mandates quarterly reviews of the company's performance and financial condition. Based on those reviews, customer rates would decrease, remain the same or increase.

"The company's performance will be the basis for the company's revenues - just like any other business," Ed Blakeslee, MPC's vice president of Marketing said. "We think it is a fair plan for the customer and the company."

Under the plan the company would be penalized for poor service and rewarded for excellent service. But no change in rates could be more than two percent.

The company would be scored quarterly on a 0 to 10 scale on how well it completes construction projects, how well the company's residential cost per kilowatt-hour compares with other utilities in the Southeast, the length and the number of customers affected by power outages, how satisfied customers are with the company, how well generating plants are maintained, safety and how well the company utilizes its facilities.

"The PSC was looking for an alternative to the traditional method of setting rates which was very expensive to the ratepayer and the taxpayer," Blakeslee said. "Under the old system we filed rate increases that took years to settle and involved stacks of legal papers and court orders."

The PSC made the plan effective beginning the first quarter of 1986. According to the evaluation for the first quarter, there would be no change in rates. MPC is in the process of compiling the data for the quarter ending June 30, 1986 to determine if rates will go up, down or remain the same. The evaluation for the second quarter of 1986 should be completed in the coming weeks.

"We said at the beginning of this year that 1986 looked like a rate increase year," Blakeslee said. "However, under this plan we will not be able to file that rate increase. We will have to wait and see if the company's performance and financial condition warrant an increase or not. And, even if we score high on performance, there is a two percent cap in the plan on any increase."

Blakeslee pointed out that with the Performance Evaluation Plan in effect, there are four factors which will affect customer costs.

"First, the performance evaluations each quarter could change customer costs," he said. "Second, fuel costs are adjusted each January to recover the actual amount spent to purchase fuel, mainly coal, to generate electricity. Third, customer costs are adjusted each March to recover MPC's ad valorem tax payments. And fourth, sales of electricity to other utilities affect customer costs. When contracts to sell electricity expire, costs go up. If we sign new contracts, costs go down. These four factors will fluctuate to decrease or increase the cost to the customer."

Because no other utility has ever operated under a plan like this, Blakeslee said there are still some uncertainties about the overall effects of the plan on MPC.

HAVENS' STATEMENT
Lynn Havens, Public Service commissioner of the Southern District, issued the following statement on the new process.

"For quite some time, I have been bage dumps.

Other violations the group is interested in correcting include structures that do not conform to building restrictions in the covenants and operation of businesses in a residential area, Garcia added.

"We plan to take whatever legal action is needed for enforcement," she stated.

"If we can get the authorities to cooperate with us, I believe we can go forward."

Anyone unable to attend the Tuesday night meeting who would like information on reporting violations can obtain more information from Civic Association President Betty Smith at 467-2480 after 5 p.m. or Vice-President Fritz Garcia at 467-4217.

looking at a new concept in rate regulation. Mississippi Power Company was chosen for the new concept in regulation referred to by this Commission as "Performance Evaluation Plan."

It has become very tiresome listening to rate cases for the benefit of stockholders. The new method adopted by this Commission requires Mississippi Power Company, in several categories, to be evaluated as to what they do for the ratepayers rather than their earnings for the stockholders. Under this plan, they must meet the customers' needs or else they suffer the consequences which could result in as much as 2 percent in reduction of rates if they fail to meet the consumers' needs.

The Commission now has adequate staff to be effective in the regulatory field. Under the new plan, the staff will be reviewing and evaluating Mississippi Power Company every quarter. This will give a constant updated review of the Company.

We have audited the books of Mississippi Power Company and we have verified all figures before adopting this new plan. Under this plan, the Commission has not altered its complete control and the Commission has for its option to call for hearings at anytime it detects something in the way of excessive expenses or inefficient management of service problems to the consumers. This plan is implemented on a trial basis. I have no reason to believe that it will not be 100 percent in the best interest of the ratepayers.

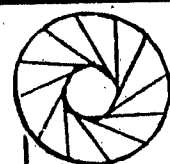

Utility companies must realize that they must operate in an efficient manner in supplying the necessities to consumers. I believe that this is a step forward and a definite improvement in regulating utilities."

Quotables by Cuevas

A large men's and women's softball tournament is scheduled this coming weekend at Commerege Park on Bookter and St. Francis Streets in Bay St. Louis.

Proceeds from the softball tournament are to go towards the construction of the Veterans Monument to be erected at the intersection of US-90 and Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis.

The monument is to honor the veterans of all wars.

The tournament is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Sponsors are hoping there will be a large spectator turnout as many teams are scheduled to play.

In viewing the family tree being prepared in part by Gary E. Necaise of Waveland, we find the Cuevas family is also involved.

The Necaise or Nicaise, as it was spelled, family left France on August 10, 1720 according to Gary E. Necaise's search of the family's genealogy.

Many of the names of the area have had ancestors living in the area for more than 200 years and the Necaise family was among the earliest settlers.

Of course the Indians were here first and we are related to them too, just like any other family with long ties to the area.

A county marina at Bayou Cadet has been a topic of discussion among elected officials for many years.

It seems every time a site is selected, something comes up to block its development.

It is hoped by many that one of the four sites now being considered will receive necessary approval in addition to funding and will become a reality.

In some cases it is necessary to keep plugging along in order for a project to become a reality.

If ever a county marina is established at Bayou Cadet, it will come after a very long waiting for many folks.

A special fund has been established at Hancock Bank by Karen Stoufflet of Bay St. Louis for her son, Al Favre Jr., who sustained a broken neck in a diving accident in July.

The Bay High student is in Coast Community Hospital in Biloxi and improving, according to his mother.

The youth had been scheduled to be transferred to the Shriners Spinal Research Center in Chicago, Ill., but a bed for him has not become available.

Archie Courrege, a local member of the Shriners said Wednesday, the Chicago Hospital has only been in operation a short time and all beds are now occupied.

Persons wishing to make a contribution to the Al Favre fund may do so at the Hancock Bank.

The Shriners Circus is scheduled for August 30 and 31 at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum.

Funds raised by the Shriners Circus are used to help fund the burn hospitals across the country for youth.

Persons interested in purchasing tickets may call Archie Courrege at 467-1531.

United States Senator

Thad Cochran

Chernobyl has spurred international discussion of nuclear safety

Senator Thad Cochran says the Chernobyl reactor disaster has resulted in "extensive international discussion of possible additional measures to prevent accidents and to reduce the consequences when they occur."

He said proposals to strengthen the role of international agencies to promote nuclear reactor safety and provide prompt warning and supply of information in case of accidents "deserve the vigorous encouragement of our government and the world community as a whole."

Senator Cochran's comments came at a hearing he chaired of the Senate Governmental Affairs Subcommittee on Energy, Nuclear Proliferation and Government Processes.

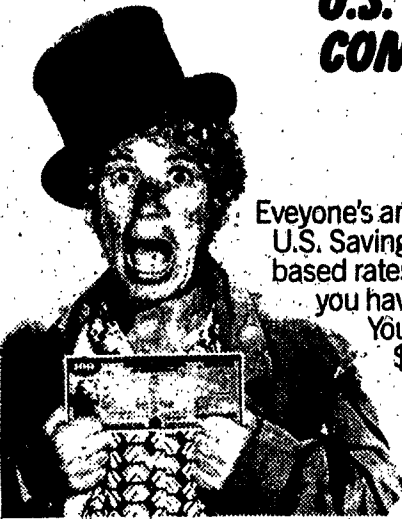

Ambassador Richard T. Kennedy, special advisor to the Secretary of State on nonproliferation and nuclear energy affairs, testified before Senator Cochran's subcommittee.

Ambassador Kennedy, who serves as the United States representative to the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) headquartered in Vienna, Austria, reviewed current IAEA safety activities and discussed prospects for improved international cooperation in nuclear safety through the agency.

In discussing the Chernobyl disaster on April 28 in the Soviet Union, Senator Cochran said, "Although the cost will have been high, perhaps this tragic accident will result in a coordinated effort to improve international cooperation in nuclear safety. It is time to help and to think about effective international measures to prevent nuclear accidents and to control the effects of those which occur."

He noted that proposals for a stronger commitment and increased resources for agencies such as IAEA face a difficult future, but the urgency of the nuclear safety issue "concerns the whole world and can no longer be considered a matter of purely national policy. The moment must be seized to strengthen international commitments and structures embodying this fact before the pressure to act fades away."

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

INFANT MORTALITY

Officials from four states and the District of Columbia will participate in The Governor's Infant Mortality Seminar July 31 in the Old Supreme Court Chamber at the State Capitol. The seminar will be hosted by Gov. Bill Allain, in cooperation with the March of Dimes Birth Defect Foundation, the Southern Governors' Association and the Southern Legislative Conference.

The Southern Governors' Association formed the Southern Regional Task Force on Infant Mortality to study the problem on a regional basis and make recommendations. One recommendation was for Southern states to hold seminars and conferences addressing the problem, with Mississippi chosen as one of six states to host the first series of meetings.

Allain will present the welcoming address for the seminar. Panelists will include Dr. Al Brann, a neonatologist for the Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, who will discuss the problem of infant mortality; William Sellers, administrator of Delta Medical Center, Greenville, and chairman of the Mississippi Task Force on Infant Mortality, who will address ramifications of the infant mortality problem; George S. Dillon, retired chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Airco Inc., Montvale, N.J., and a trustee of the March of Dimes Birth Defect Foundation, who will present economic and business solutions; and Sarah Shup'ine, executive assistant for health and human services, South Carolina Office of the Governor, and chairman of the Southern Regional Task Force on Infant Mortality Work Group, who will discuss legislative solutions.

Beverly W. Hogan, executive director of the Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, will be the panel moderator. Concluding remarks will be made by Dr. Rae Grad of Washington, project director for the Southern Regional Task Force on Infant Mortality.

Panelists also will answer questions from persons attending the seminar. More than 100 business and legislative leaders from throughout Mississippi have been invited to attend.

Nellie Hutchinson, director of the Commission for Children and Youth, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, said the seminar is one step in Allain's efforts to deal with the infant mortality problem, with a larger, statewide conference planned for the fall. Allain hosted a meeting of the Southern Regional Task Force on Infant Mortality in Jackson last year.

"Although we had a five percent decrease in the infant mortality rate last year (to 13.7 deaths per 1,000 live births), we still have one of the highest rates in the country," Mrs. Hutchinson said. "It's broader than a medical problem. It's a human resource problem that affects the economy of the state. We need to demonstrate that effect to the business and legislative leaders."

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lou

THE IMPORTANCE OF IMPROVING OUR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

In Mississippi as we try to find ways to improve our economic situation and move up the ladder, I am convinced we must continue to focus on bettering our educational system.

This is true not only for our state but also for the rest of the country. Good schools and good teachers do relate to a state's ability to attract industry and create new jobs.

Business and industry choose to locate in areas where their workers' children can get a good education. In many cases, the quality of education is a priority over how much an industry must invest financially to locate in a state.

I recently met with Labor Secretary Bill Brock to find out what the Labor Department, working in cooperation with the Departments of Education and Commerce and with the individual states, is doing to emphasize education's importance to job creation.

He says the biggest job of the Department of Labor these days is to improve the skill base of the United States in order that we can be more competitive.

The Labor Department is working to increase productivity, provide training, improve educational levels and give people a chance to constantly upgrade their skills so they can in turn upgrade their income and economic growth.

Overall the country is in good shape. We are making progress in Mississippi. It looks like the unemployment numbers are going to come down, and employment is going to continue to go up.

In the meantime, Congress must take actions to allow the economy to continue to grow by enacting a good, genuine tax reform bill and bringing the deficit down by controlling spending.

Looking to the future at what we need to do to improve labor and management's ability to create new jobs, productivity and education are right at the top of the list.

It is impossible to train someone who cannot read and write to a new occupation. Our young people who are dropping out of high school and then trying to get a job are finding out there are not any jobs for people in that circumstance. That is evidence that we must do a better job with our educational system.

Secretary Brock predicts that the average young person who comes out of school today is going to hold four to six jobs in his lifetime simply because the jobs and the economy are changing that fast. In the next four years, about 80 percent of the new jobs created in this country are going to require more than a high school education to compete. It really is not fair to our children not to prepare them for that future with the proper education.

With the aging of our population and fewer young people coming into the work force, our skill levels are going to get higher.

Eyes on Mississippi

By Bill Minor

JACKSON— Next year's gubernatorial race isn't going to be any hallelujah chorus of candidates, all advocating a new state constitution, it seems rather certain now.

Columbia attorney Maurice Dantin, who figures to be a major candidate for the Democratic nomination in the 1987 run for the governorship, has already set about to put distance between himself and other potential candidates on the constitution issue.

Recently Dantin, in a speech before the state convention of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors that was very little reported, dashed cold water on the recommendations of Gov. Bill Allain's constitution study committee calling for far-reaching reforms in state government.

One of his listeners happened to be Allain, who was sitting at the head table, a short distance away. Reportedly Allain turned red and bristled, then left without speaking to Dantin after his speech.

Dantin's major premise was that if there is going to be any major rewriting of the constitution, the traditional power of Mississippians to elect public officials such as judges, highway commissioners and public service commissioners should not be taken away from them.

The subtle message of Dantin's remarks was that the Allain constitution commission doesn't have enough trust in the people to select their own officials. Evidently, that's what really rankled Allain.

Dantin admits he wants to lay the groundwork to focus the debate in next year's campaign on the philosophy of governmental changes that may be brought about in a new state constitution, and also the approach to those changes.

Obviously the 56-year-old Dantin, an unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1975, wants to come down on the side of the people's power to elect all of the officials they now elect. His argument is that you don't take public offices out of politics by making them appointive.

He's for revising the 1890 constitution, but he's convinced that a constitutional convention is the way to do it. "I am open to discussion on that question," Dantin says.

Dantin told the supervisors exactly what they wanted to hear on the perennial county unit system question: that it should be left to the individual counties to decide, rather than be mandated by the Legislature.

Of course, local option on the county unit is the way it has always been and the history of counties adopting the county unit system on their own has indeed been a sorry one.

His opposition to mandatory county unit would put Dantin squarely on the other side from State Auditor Ray Mabus who now appears to be a certain candidate for governor in 1987. Mabus has skyrocketed to prominence on the strength of his crackdown on mismanagement and corruption in county government.

Significantly, Mabus' specific reference to a mandatory statewide county unit system as a major tool in saving taxpayer dollars got the biggest applause the other day at the Neshoba County Fair.

Dantin contends that he is not attempting to "take on" Allain or any other possible foe in next year's governor's race by maintaining positions that put him on the opposite side philosophically.

"I'm not concerned with who else is running or what position they take," Dantin said, adding, "I think the people ought to decide if we're going to put everything in Jackson, or keep a government that may not be as efficient, but at least is in the hands of the people."

Dantin's less-than-spectacular record thus far as a political candidate has been pockmarked with bad timing. Some observers are already questioning whether or not his opposition to governmental reforms will run headlong into a rising public demand for change in light of continuing disclosures of corruption and waste of public funds.

A former district attorney, Dantin in recent years has made a good deal of money in private practice of law, particularly in oil and gas. Some believe he is prepared to bolster his campaign chest with his own funds in order to wage a top-flight race for governor.

Dantin has set next January for his time of final decision on the gubernatorial bid, but he has already begun lining up supporters and financial backers. From his 1975 gubernatorial and 1978 Senate races, Dantin had collected what was considered the best political campaign list in the state.

He has already been in touch with Peter Hart, the Washington, D.C. based political pollster whose work in past Mississippi campaigns has been phenomenally accurate. Hart comes high and Dantin has not made the financial commitment to hire him as yet.

Perhaps with Hart aboard, Dantin will find out the people are more for governmental change than he now believes. Or he could be right.

Ashton-Greene concerned about air pollution from Seabee Base incinerator

Aug. 9, 1986
Letters to the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

Now that our highways, roadways, byways, woodlands and even yards, are being poisoned by toxic sprays used uncontrollably by power and gas companies and railroads, the Environmental Protection Agency and the Air Force have struck again.

The green light to incinerate dioxin-tainted soils from Agent Orange residues at the Naval Construction Battalion Base, Gulfport, will begin the first week of September, continuing on a 24-hour basis (wind, rain, fog and even hurricanes not withstanding) for about six months.

Our citizens will, in essence, become guinea pigs, breathing the discharge of this portable incinerator hauled from Arkansas on an 18-wheeler.

Let's try to ban these dangerous health and birth defect hazards, so that "the right to breathe" will be as sacred as the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Cordially,

Father saves two children from blaze

BY DENA BISNETTE

Two children escaped injury in a fire that destroyed a house at Cuevas Junction in Kiln Wednesday evening.

Earl Fayard, owner of the building, said his two youngest sons were playing inside the house when one of the boys, age three, set fire to a pile of carpeting with a cigarette lighter.

Fayard, who was working outside the building when the fire began at about 6 p.m., got the two children out of the house and then tried to save the building with a garden hose before summoning the fire department.

He said he had gone with one of his other four children around the back of a nearby trailer in which he and his family have been living when his son called to him that the house was on fire.

"I could see the house was almost gone right then," Fayard said.

"I got my boys out. That's the one thing that counts," he added.

Although both the Kiln and Leetown volunteer fire departments responded, the building was totally destroyed.

Fayard told County Fire Marshall Jay Marsh that he had recently purchased the white wood-frame structure and had it moved from its previous site at the Kiln caution light to his property next to Busy B arena.

The Fayard family had been preparing to move into the renovated structure at the end of August.

"If it had happened after we had moved in, we would have lost everything," Fayard said.

"I appreciate the efforts of the fire departments in trying to put this thing out," he added.

He said the fire began in the back of the structure and destroyed some building materials in addition to the house and the carpeting.

Bay school board agrees on Policy 18 changes

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District Board has agreed to change its policy on agenda requests for special meetings.

Lana Noonan, who chaired a committee studying the board's Policy 18, said committee members found no problems with agenda request procedures for regular meetings.

The group recommended changes, however, in the procedures for special meetings.

Policy 18 presently requires that individuals wishing to be placed on the agenda of a regular meeting submit their request by noon of the Thursday preceding that meeting.

The policy originally stated that an agenda request for a special meeting with more than 24 hours' notice must be submitted by 4 p.m. the day preceding the meeting.

For special meetings with less than 24 hours' notice, the requests could be submitted for immediate action by the superintendent.

In the past, there has been no provision for filing agenda requests by telephone.

Noonan reported that the committee had decided that agenda requests for special meetings should be divided into two categories, depending on the time of day the meeting is scheduled.

The committee recommended that the deadline for agenda requests for evening meetings be moved to 4 p.m. the day of the meeting and that requests be accepted both in person and by telephone.

Requests for a special meeting during daytime working hours should be taken up to the time of the meeting, according to the committee's recommendations.

An agenda request for such a meeting could be filed by signing a register rather than filling out the usual request form, Noonan said.

The recommendations were approved unanimously.

Also approved was the committee's recommendation for a 15 minute question and answer session at the end of each meeting.

Board Attorney Lucien Gex asked that the sessions be limited to those items on the agenda or added to the agenda during the course of the meeting and that all questions be addressed either to the full board or the board president, not to specific individual members.

Matters can be referred to specific board members by the board president if necessary, the attorney explained.

He also recommended a time limit on responses by board members, but Board President Betty Diboll said time limits should be determined by the importance of the topic addressed.

The decision on time limits was left to the discretion of the board president.

Also on Monday, a parent requested that board policy 15, which governs the use of school buildings by the public, be reconsidered.

Richard W. Smith, who made the request, stated that Bay-Waveland Parents for Quality Education had difficulty arranging use of the Bay Senior High School Library for its meeting last Thursday.

He said the superintendent, who was speaker at the meeting, had said the group would be allowed to use the facility.

Smith said a "junior board member" then stated that it is against Policy 15 for any organization not directly affiliated with the school to use a school facility without prior permission from the board.

Smith said telephone calls to two additional board members resulted in the organization being able to use the facility, but requested that the board reconsider the policy anyway.

Gex said the board is given authority over public use of school buildings by law, but there is nothing in the statute that prevents that authority from being delegated to the superintendent.

The board took no action on the matter Monday other than to make Smith's comments a part of the meeting records.

In other business, the board:

—Accepted bids on insurance for buses, a copy machine and band uniforms for Bay Senior High;

—Approved use of the Bay Senior High and Waveland Elementary School athletic fields by Bay Area Youth Soccer on the contingency that principals at both schools are notified before use;

—Approved requesting an emergency certificate for distributive education teacher Wendy Rupp, who is certified in a related area;

—Hired bus drivers for the 1986-87 school year; and —Hired Marcie S. Rogers as special education teacher at North Bay Elementary School.

The board is expected to call a special meeting later this month to finalize a lease agreement for a fifth grade center at St. Rose de Lima Catholic School.

High heat hinders health

High summer temperatures are causing havoc for many Mississippians! Those people who appear to suffer the greatest risk from the heat and high humidity of Mississippi summers are the elderly, persons with heart conditions, and infants.

Although most people can tolerate extreme heat, those whose bodies cannot adjust are subject to heat stroke, heat exhaustion, and heat cramps. Of these conditions, heat stroke causes the most severe damage.

The Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation, has available free energy and health related publications on "What Everyone Should Know About Heat Stroke, Heat Exhaustion and Heat Cramps", "Food Ideas for the Heat Wave", "High Heat Hinders Health", and many other publications on summer cooling and how to cut the cost of "Cooling Your Home".

Mobile Medic's junior paramedic program continues Saturday

WHAT WOULD YOUR CHILD'S REACTION BE IN THE EVENT OF A MEDICAL EMERGENCY?

Mobile Medic's Junior Paramedic Program was launched July 21 to an 'exciting response from the public' according to Paramedic Juliette Moran.

"It is with this warm welcome that our assumptions have been confirmed. There is indeed a definite need, as well as, desire for the education of small children in dealing with emergencies," added Cathey Williams, emergency medical technician.

The crew at Mobile Medic has been invited to private homes, along with public places, such as the Y.M.C.A. AND McDonalds, they noted.

The program is geared for children ages 5-12 in West Harrison and Hancock Counties. Upon completion of the program, a child should be able to recognize a medical emergency and report it using 911.

He or she will have learned address and telephone number, and older children will receive instruction in basic first aid techniques.

Each child will receive a certificate and a badge identifying him or her as a Mobile Medic Junior Paramedic.

The program is offered to any group of ten or more children, free of charge. For more information contact the Education Department at Mobile Medic, 868-1126.

"Come join Billy Bob and the crew from Mobile Medic Saturday at Show Biz Pizza on Courthouse Road," Moran urges.

Classes will be held at 10 a.m., noon, 2 p.m., and 4 p.m. Free Cokes and tokens will be given.

Senior Citizens Happenings

By Eve McDonald

RUMORS GALORE!

We are not being closed down by the city of Bay St. Louis. The mayor has just asked us to fill out forms showing how much space we use, need, or require. He also wants to know who comes to the Center and where they come from.

I went before the City Council last week and they assured me that they would continue to provide the senior citizens with space, utilities, and maintenance as they have in the past.

When senior citizen federal funds were used to upgrade this facility the City of Bay St. Louis signed an agreement that the space that was upgraded with these funds would be used for a senior center for at least 10 years, the last use of these funds was in 1980.

The mayor told us he was not trying to "put us out," he just wants to consolidate city departments and upgrade the whole building.

I cannot believe any politician would uproot and displace the senior citizens of this community. We have such a small amount of space, less than 8,000 square feet dedicated for their use in this whole county - they can't want to take it away!

When you look at other budgets, I don't think we are a financial drain, we only need $60,000 in local money to provide the services we have been providing. Some of this money is matched by the federal government so we can stretch it as far as possible.

We have asked Waveland to once again support our program with funds. We need their support to continue to provide the extra services for them. Mayor Longo and the Aldermen have always been supportive of our program and I feel sure they will again this year.

If you are in Waveland and receive services from us, let your representative know and thank them for their past support, and ask for support for this coming year.

CLASSES

Emily Gardner will be starting a "special projects" class on Tuesday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. One of the projects will be pine cone wreaths. Please bring some pretty pine cones with you for the class.

We will start Sept. 2. Please call if you are interested. 467-9292.

If you have pine cones to donate, we will need those too as some of our ladies don't have pine trees in their yard, or, if they are like me, the squirrels have eaten them all.

Emily still has openings in her drawing class on Tuesday morning, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

ACTIVITIES

It has been too hot to have any special parties in the summer. Our air conditioner was giving us a bad time in the cafeteria and our day room and office. We sure didn't want to have a party and have you hot! We cancelled all parties until cooler weather.

PICNIC

Start planning for a big picnic at Buccaneer Park Sept. 29. We hope to be able to furnish some food and prizes. We will let you know later when to start making reservations.

Hancock school personnel to attend development sessions

All certified staff, teacher aides, and teacher assistants in the Hancock County school system will report to USM-Gulf Park in Long Beach at 8:30 a.m. Monday and Tuesday for two days of staff development.

The meeting will take place in Hardy Hall and will last five hours each day.

Several consultants will work with administrators and staff during these two days as determined by the needs assessment taken last March and April.

Most of the presentations will be conducted by Dr. Theron Manly, associate professor at Gulf Park;

Miss Nancy Brown, State Department of Education; Dr. Thomas Yarnell, clinical psychologist; and James Pair, Hancock County assistant superintendent.

On the third day, Wednesday, the teachers will report to their respective schools where each principal will continue with staff development meetings.

Thereafter, a staff development meeting will take place once a month as required by the State Department of Education.

The students will report to all air-conditioned classrooms on Thursday, August 21, for a full day of school.

Port and Harbor officials agree to fund 20 percent of erosion control project

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK
The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission will participate in a project to prevent further erosion in the north approach zone at Stennis International Airport.

Danny Nelson, project engineer for the Soil Conservation Commission of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Doug Stephens, district conservationist, appeared before the commission Monday and presented plans which called for the installation of pipes to aid in the water runoff and a concrete lined ditch with a total project cost of approximately $60,000.

Funding for 80 percent of the project is available through the Emergency Watershed Protection Act, Stephens said.

The local share of monies to be used for the project will be $12,000-$13,000.

Nelson told the commission there is currently a seven to eight foot drop at the Jourdan River but that could move inland.

Commission Director James DeBlanc told commission directors he believed the project should be undertaken.

"There is erosion in the area and it is going to continue," he added.

Stephens said the longer the problem goes, the more it will cost to get it fixed.

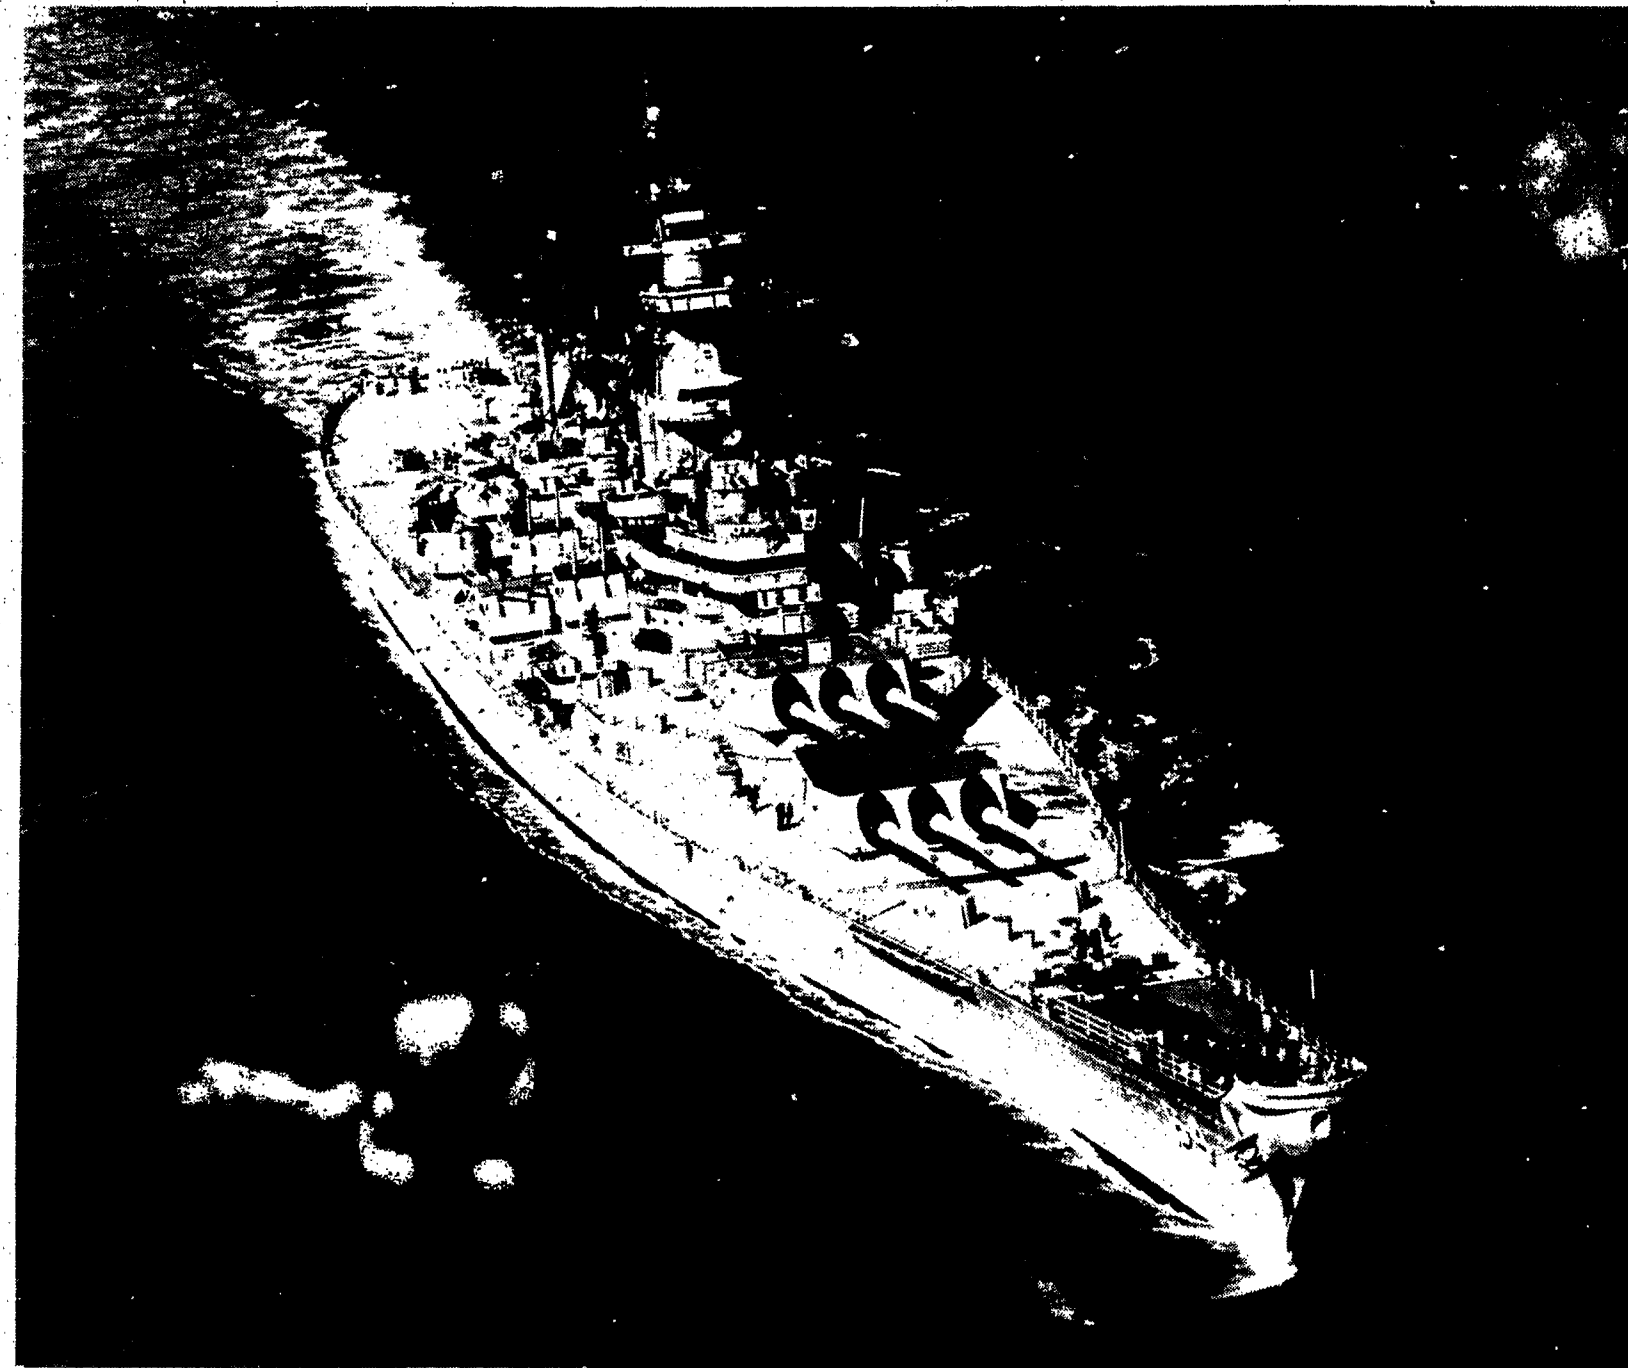

The commission voted unanimously to provide 20 percent funding for the project provided that percentage did not exceed $15,000.

Also at the meeting, Commissioner David McDonald presented a report from the airport committee with another proposal for a site at Stennis for Chapter 479 of Experimental Aircraft Association.

This fifth proposal calls for a lease purchase agreement with EEA one acre for $25,000 at Stennis and EEA to have a right of refusal on two additional adjacent acres.

The commission approved the proposal but approval is also necessary from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the FAA.

WISCONSIN (BB 64), shown before being "mothballed" in 1958 in the Atlantic Reserve Fleet at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, will be reactivated by Ingalls Shipbuilding division of Litton in Pascagoula, the Navy has announced. Last of four Iowa class battleships to be reactivated, Wisconsin will be upgraded to include modern missile systems, communications, electronics and crew facilities. In 1984, Ingalls redelivered a modernized USS Iowa (BB 61) to the Navy ahead of a Navy accelerated schedule.

Counties operate on a fiscal year beginning Oct. 1, but tax collectors' offices are required to use a fiscal year corresponding with the calendar year.

Counties, therefore, are faced with the problem of operating from October until February with virtually no tax revenue coming in.

In February, taxes collected during January, one of the peak months for tax collections, become available for county use.

"The policy we try to follow is to watch all our accounts closely and not overspend," Necaise stated.

Road and bridge funds are usually divided by five when planning a budget and each district receives one fifth. Any revenue sharing money assigned to road and bridge funds is also divided by five for distribution to the five districts.

However, Hancock County is now under the unit system and the road and bridge money will not be divided. Instead, funds will be assigned to individual projects on a priority basis.

The total amount of road and bridge funds for 1986-87 is divided into $820,318 for road and bridge maintenance and $176,852 for bridge construction, Walker said.

In addition to that, the county still has $42,250 in revenue sharing available.

Also available this year for the first time will be $330,000 in seawall taxes, which will pay for a three-man crew presently being paid out of road and bridge funds.

Recently hired County Road Maintenance Superintendent William Johnson's salary will be divided into thirds.

One third of the $22,000 salary Johnson will receive will come from road and bridge funds, one third will come from bridge construction and one third will come from seawall taxes.

The road and bridge account will not have a beginning balance in fiscal year 1986-87 because the supervisors have committed or are expected to spend the remaining 1985-86 road and bridge funds before Oct. 1, Necaise explained.

If not having a carryover causes the road and bridge funds to run short before the January tax collections become available, the supervisors have two options, Necaise said.

"Normally this is not a problem we would have to face, because in the past we have always had carryover in road and bridge," the clerk explained.

The board can either borrow money in anticipation of taxes or can use an interfund loan from the general fund.

However, Necaise said the general fund account will not be able to support both operating expenses and road and bridge until February.

The proposed 1986-87 budget includes increases in two areas, with other accounts funded at the same level as last year.

One area of increase is in the sheriff's department and includes $2,000 mandated by an act of the legislature and $500 provided by the county for employee benefits.

The other is in the $8.2 million budget for the Hancock County School District. The school district budget, however, is not controlled by the board of supervisors.

The board must, by law, give the school district whatever amount it requests, Walker said.

County school district taxes are expected to increase, but some homeowners will receive a break on their property taxes through the new legislation that decreased the assessment from 15 percent to 10 percent.

"We are finishing this fiscal year in good financial shape," Necaise said. "We're in the black and with the interest on our investments and watching our money very carefully we will be able to make it to February without a tax anticipation loan for the general fund accounts."

"We don't have an abundance of money, but I think we have stretch- ed what we had as well as we could."

AGENCY MEMBERS

MS Outdoors magazine has been selected the Conservation Communicator of the Year by the Mississippi Wildlife Federation.

The award was presented at the federation's annual awards banquet Aug. 2.

One of the oldest conservation magazines in the South, MS Outdoors has been published since 1938. The bi-monthly magazine is the official publication of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation.

Also at the federation's awards banquet, Oktibbeha County conservation officer Johnnie M. Dawkins was selected as the Wildlife Federation's Conservation Officer of the Year.

The Conservation Educator of the Year award was presented to Libby Hartfield of Bolton. Mrs. Hartfield is the education coordinator for the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science in Jackson.

WILDLIFE PETS

The state Commission on Wildlife Conservation has proposed new regulations to restrict the private possession of wildlife.

At a meeting of the five-member board in Jackson in August, rules were adopted dividing exotic and native species into three classes.

Class one animals such as lions, leopards, elephants and poisonous snakes would be banned from private possession.

Class two would include most native species and would require a permit to possess these animals.

Class three animals would include common pets like parakeets, rabbits, boa constrictors and gerbils. Possession would be allowed without restriction.

Exemptions are included for public zoos, educational institutions, circuses, and persons already legally possessing wildlife.

"What we are really trying to do with these new rules is simply protect the public from potentially dangerous animals and certain wildlife diseases," Bureau of Fisheries and Wildlife director Jack Herring said.

"We want to protect our native wildlife from introduced diseases or competition with exotic species, and give additional protection to the animals themselves."

Herring said that most wild animals just don't make good pets. They require special care, and most people don't have the facilities or the expertise to keep wild animals in safe and healthy conditions.

Officials say the new regulations were adapted from those in effect in other Southeastern states.

Mississippi's previous regulations were written some 30 years ago before the phenomenon of wildlife pets became popular.

Copies of the new proposal are available free from the Department of Wildlife Conservation, P.O. Box 451, Jackson, MS 39205-0451.

AQUATIC EXHIBIT

The new Aquatic Education Hall at the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science will be officially opened by the Commissioners of the Department of Wildlife Conservation Aug. 18 at 3 p.m. public ceremony. The 15 aquarium exhibit, which includes tanks ranging from 30 to 240 gallons, is the keystone of the museum's new aquatic education project.

"The exhibits demonstrate the diversity of Mississippi waters by featuring habitats ranging from coastal marshes, to southeast Mississippi blackwater streams, to Delta swamps and catfish ponds, to northeast Mississippi reservoirs," said Libby Hartfield, education coordinator at the museum. "They allow us to observe fish behavior in a natural environment. Everyone from a small child to a professional angler can enjoy and learn from that opportunity."

"We'll use the aquariums with other exhibits, special presentations and teacher workshops to encourage the understanding and appreciation of Mississippi's aquatic habitats and animals and to promote the responsible and ethical use of those resources," said Ms. Hartfield.

A $42,000 grant from the Institute of Museum Services provided much of the funding for construction of the new aquarium hall, with the remainder coming from special taxes paid by the nation's anglers and boaters. These funds are administered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service under the Wallop-Breaux provisions of the Dingell-Johnson Fisheries Restoration Act. The Mississippi Museum of Natural Science, a division of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation, is located at 111 N. Jefferson St., Jackson. The museum is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. For information call 354-7303.

Private services listed at Starkville airport

Mississippi State University football fans who fly in private aircraft are invited to take advantage of Starkville's George M. Bryan Airport and free shuttle service to Scott Field when attending this season's home football games.

The airport is only five miles from MSU's Scott Field where three nighttime games and one afternoon game will be played this year.

The facility has a newly remodeled building which includes an air-conditioned and heated waiting area. It also features a 5,000-foot runway with parallel taxiway and plenty of room for aircraft parking. Bryan Airport's new fixed base operator provides 24-hour fueling—both aviation gas and jet fuel—and major aircraft maintenance.

But, probably most important for Bulldog fans, beginning at 10 a.m. on game days, MSU will provide a free shuttle between Bryan Airport and Scott Field with return service to the airport after the game.

For more information, contact Joe Webb, transportation officer, at 325-3005.

USM cross country schedule released

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi men's and women's cross country teams will run in six regular season meets in addition to the Metro Conference Championships according to the schedule released by track and cross country coach Marshall Bell and athletic director Bill McLellan.

The Golden Eagles runners will (as usual) open with their own USM

Invitational (Sept. 19) and proceed with meets at South Alabama, Alabama-Birmingham, the State Cross Country Championships (at Clinton, Miss.), the LSU Invitational, the Tulane Invitational and end the season Nov. 8 at the Metro Championships in Memphis, Tenn.

The women's program will be entering its second year and (according to Bell) should be considerably stronger this season with a young team returning with a full season's experience.

The men will unveil a mostly new squad, but the addition of some quality runners should put the team in a very competitive position as the season progresses.

The complete schedule follows:

SEPTEMBER

19-USM Invitational; 27—at South Alabama.

OCTOBER

4—at UAB Invitational; 11—at the State Cross Country Championship in Clinton, Miss.; 18—at LSU Invitational; 25—at Tulane Invitational.

NOVEMBER

8—Metro Championship in Memphis, Tenn.; 15—Region II Championships at Furman University; 22—NCAA Championships at the University of Arizona.

Hunter Education Ranked

The hunter education program of the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation has been rated as one of the top 10 programs of its kind in America.

The hunter education program in Colorado was ranked number one.

"We are working very hard to become the number one program in the nation," hunter education coordinator L. J. Smith said.

"During 1985-86 we trained nearly 16,000 hunter education students in Mississippi. Right now we are facing a mandatory hunter education law in 1988 that will require anyone born on or after January 1, 1972 to complete our course before purchasing a hunting license."

TIGERS PRACTICE—Members of the Bay St. Louis Senior High School Tiger Football Team practice their blocking patterns on a defensive play Tuesday afternoon. The Tigers will begin practicing in full gear this afternoon as part of their preparations for the 1986 season, Head Coach Cleveland Williams said. The season opens Sept. 5 with a home game against Stone County High School. (Staff photo by Dena Bisnette)

Favre alone among River's returning offensive starters

POPLARVILLE—Pearl River College football players checked in at will between five and six here Thursday afternoon, but when any of the 104 decided to go home it took more than just saying bye.

One of the first things PRC head coach Mike Nelson did when his '86 Wildcats moved in was to head up their cars and move them all to the Dobbie Holden Stadium.

The stadium is still under lock and key, however, by Monday morning the used car lot was not near as full. Nelson reported that after the first full gear session 87 players were vying for the 55 slots on the team. Thirty-two more will have to go by the wayside before the Wildcats register for fall classes Friday afternoon.

"Everyone we signed last spring reported," Nelson said. "It's early, but I'm really pleased with the condition of the players and their hustle during the first few days."

Nelson said quarterback Scott

Favre, the only offensive starter from the '85 season, is throwing the ball well. In fact, the second-year head coach of the Wildcats said he was very pleased with the Cats' passing game.

Nelson singled out wide receivers Arthur Dozier of Hattiesburg and Anthony Robinson of Vigor, Alabama. The PRC coach was also pleased with tight-ends Chris Hoz of Holy Cross in New Orleans and Tracey Boyd of Crowley, Louisiana, and Ransom Funches of Bassfield. All five players are freshmen.

The Wildcats will register Friday afternoon for fall classes and then take a well-deserved rest from the grueling two-a-days until Sunday night.

At 6 p.m. Tuesday the Wildcats will enjoy a seafood dinner and get a chance to meet members of the newly formed Wildcat Club. Anyone interested in joining the support group should report to the PRC Cafeteria at 6 p.m. Tuesday evening.

The Wildcats will begin their '86 season on the road against North Division foe Coahoma on August 30.

NSTL issues buffer zone reminder

Officials at the National Space Technology Laboratories remind the public of the restrictions imposed on the buffer zone lands by the perpetual restrictive easement owned by the U.S. government.

When the government acquired the land upon which NSTL is located in Hancock County, Miss., it also purchased certain rights in the privately owned land surrounding NSTL.

Basically, the government acquired the right in these lands to prohibit dwellings and other buildings which can be lived in or occupied by people. Mobile homes, camper trailers or other enclosed structures, even on a temporary basis as in the case of overnight camping, are in conflict with the government's easement rights.

NSTL is the nation's only large liquid rocket propulsion test facility and all of the Space Shuttle main engines are tested and certified for flight there. NASA's rocket testing mission at NSTL will continue indefinitely into the foreseeable future and this role is dependent upon the existence and integrity of the buffer zone.

The buffer zone surrounds NSTL and extends into Hancock and Pearl River counties in Mississippi and St. Tammany Parish in Louisiana. This buffer zone allows for the dissipation of the loud, low frequency sound waves generated by the static tests of large rocket propulsion systems.

NSTL was utilized during the 1960s to conduct test firings of large propulsion stages in support of the Apollo/Saturn V launch vehicle program to place Americans on the moon and return them safely to Earth.

In the early 1970s, NASA selected NSTL to develop the Space Shuttle main engine and the main propulsion system for the Space Shuttle program. NSTL will continue to test and develop shuttle main engines and accept the flight engines for the life of the shuttle program.

In addition to the NASA activities at NSTL, there are other federal agencies and departments which are now resident there, including over 1,000 personnel of the U.S. Navy. The U.S. Army has constructed the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at a cost of almost $500 million on the northern portion of NSTL. The buffer zone is supportive of these Defense Department activities and was a factor in their locating at NSTL.

NASA's efforts with respect to the buffer zone are concentrated on maintaining the integrity of this land to support the NASA programs and those of the other resident federal agencies, as well as serving the community environment and assisting the landowners to use their assets in ways consistent with the provisions of the government's easement, such as agriculture, grazing, recreation, timber management and mineral exploration and excavation.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, as NASA's land management agent, is responsible for assuring that the regulations governing the use of the buffer zone are met.

Area sheriffs, constables and game wardens are charged with sole responsibility for enforcement of the law on these lands.

The vast majority of the lands in the buffer zone are privately owned and any entry onto them should be with the written permission of the property owners.

SOUTHERN BELLE—A long awaited "Happy Day" has arrived for Elizabeth Lee Bell of Oregon who has patiently waited to carry on a family tradition by wearing a hoop-skirted dress first worn by her grandmother. The dress was first worn in Natchez when the grandmother was a hostess at the DAR Rosalie Shrine. Later it was modeled by Elizabeth's mother, Mrs. Barry Lee Bell, when she posed for a full-length oil painting done by a well-known Coast artist, Nadine Stamm. After that, Elizabeth's older sister, Barbara Christine, grew to fit the dress, and was the subject of a series of colored photographs made by prize-winning photographer Bob Hubbard. On every visit to the Gulf Coast, Elizabeth would measure herself against a mark placed on the pantry door which recorded the required height and weight. When she reached those requirements she would be allowed to don the hoop skirt, the taffeta petticoat and the sheer voile dress and fancy herself a "Southern Belle" sipping tea beneath live oak trees—or maybe picking a magnolia bloom. USM seeking nominations for Alumni Hall of Fame

Seventy-five graduates and former students of the University of Southern Mississippi will be inducted as charter members of a USM Alumni Hall of Fame during the university's celebration of its 75th anniversary.

The USM Alumni Association is now accepting nominations for the charter members. Induction ceremonies will be held near the end of the 30-month anniversary celebration in September, 1987.

Graduates and former students, both living and deceased, will be considered. Only those persons whose class would have graduated at least 15 years ago may be nominated. Following the initial selection of 75 members, seven new members will be inducted into the Hall of Fame each year at homecoming. Selection will be based on the following criteria: contributions and service to USM - 60 percent; community activities - 20 percent; business or professional activities - 20 percent.

Nominations must be made in writing and must include the name and location of the nominee, the position he/she holds/held and reasons why the person should be considered. Mail nominations to Alumni Hall of Fame, University of Southern Mississippi, Southern Station Box 5013, Hattiesburg, Miss., 39406-5013.

GIFTED PROGRAM

HATTIESBURG—Leanne Bennett and Danielle Gobert, both of Bay St. Louis, recently participated in the Summer Gifted Studies Program at the University of Southern Mississippi.

The Summer Gifted Studies Program was designed to strengthen the abilities of gifted students in grades four through eight in enrichment/acceleration activities. The participants had the opportunity to study topics of interest in small group in-depth interaction.

Sessions on legal issues gave students the chance to learn in research, discussion, interview and problem-solving settings.

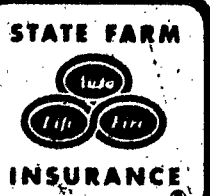

The program also included recreational activities and musical and cultural events.

UNO to hike nonresident tuition 24 percent

A proposed fee increase for out-of-state students of $350, bringing the cost of full-time tuition for nonresident students to $1,800, is among steps being taken by University of New Orleans to compensate for reduced state allocations.

This fee increase must still be approved by the LSU Board of Supervisors.

The university will not raise its fees for Louisiana residents this fall, despite the state appropriation cutbacks, according to an announcement by UNO Chancellor Cooper R. Mackin.

"UNO students already pay over one-third of the cost of their education, which is the percentage recommended by the Board of Regents at all four year and graduate institutions," says Mackin.

UNO has been severely hurt by what is the state's ninth cutback in six years, the chancellor says.

Mackin, who points out that Louisiana's funding for higher education on a per student basis is the lowest in the Southern region, says that the major cuts in state appropriations to UNO in the past six years have totaled millions of dollars.

State appropriations for UNO's 1986-87 fiscal year are over two million dollars less than the beginning budget for 1985-86.

"Because of those cutbacks we were forced to increase full-time resident fees in the 1982-83, 1983-84 and 1985-86 academic years and in the 1986 summer session. The net result was a 65 percent increase--from $772 per semester to the present $612 per semester--in a four-year period," says Mackin.

Mackin says the price UNO will pay in order to avoid raising its resident fees will be, "inadequate salaries for our faculty and staff, heavy teaching load and larger classes. We are doing everything we can to reduce the impact on the university's central mission, which is to provide quality education for the Greater New Orleans area and state of Louisiana."

According to Mackin, the following actions also are planned to offset the cutback in the state's appropriations: layoff, effective August 1, of 20-25 employees in Physical Plant Services; freezing a number of vacant faculty positions; elimination of up to 50 vacant staff positions; 60 percent reduction in equipment budgets; 50 percent reduction in travel budgets; 60 percent reduction in part-time student employment; 20 percent reduction in the Library materials budget; reduction in Metropolitan College off-campus credit offerings; reduction in fee allocations to athletics and student services; specific reductions in some support department budgets; reduction of graduate assistantships in several departments; reduction in research budgets; and the reductions in the summer session budget and the increase in summer session fees which are already in effect.

Pearl River Junior College offers state's lowest tuition

When students enroll this fall at Pearl River, Mississippi's pioneer junior college, they will pay the lowest tuition cost in the state.

Even with a $25 increase from last semester, Pearl River's $250 total is still the lowest of all junior and senior colleges in the state.

Southwest Junior College at Summit upped its tuition by $30 per semester and is the only other two year school at the $250 mark.

Education officials statewide said increases in tuition charges would average 16 percent at the two year schools as all 15 Mississippi junior colleges will begin charging students higher tuition late next month as the institutions seek to deal with major budget cuts.

Pearl River students can expect only the $25 increase in tuition, however, many other junior colleges will be increasing charges for many student services, officials said, including publication fees to cover the yearbook and newspaper, application and registration charges and activity fees.

The 1985-86 per semester average tuition of $242 will jump to $280 this fall, members of the newly formed Mississippi Board of Community and Junior College say.

The average 16 percent increase is the largest that junior college officials can recall.

Junior College officials note that Mississippi's eight universities approved increases of about $200 to $400 annually because of budget cuts.

The biggest percentage increase is at East Central Junior College in Decatur, where tuition will jump from $200 per semester to $285. The $85 increase represents a 42 percent rise from a year ago.

Meridian Junior College students will pay an additional $75 per semester to raise tuition from $225 in 1985-86 to $300 for 1986-87.

Beset with a 21 percent reduction in its state budget for the fiscal year that began July 1, the Hinds Junior College District will raise tuition by 19 percent, from $235 to $280. A slight increase in application and registration fees will bring the increase to 23 percent.

The highest tuition charges will remain at Northwest Mississippi Junior College at Senatobia, $315 per semester. The school approved no increase for this fall because its tuition charges were well above other junior colleges last year.

Per semester tuition increases at other schools, comparing 1985-86 with 1986-87 include: Itawamba Junior College at Fulton, from $235 to $280.

Holmes Junior College based at Goodman from $250 to $300.

Copiah-Lincoln Junior College at Wesson, from $250 to $275.

Gulf Coast Junior College based in Perkinston, from $215 to $265.

Southwest Mississippi Junior College at Summit, from $220 to $250.

Pearl River Junior College at Poplarville, from $225 to $250.

Northeast Mississippi Junior College at Booneville, from $275 to $285.

Mississippi Delta Junior College at Moorhead, from $250 to $275.

Jones Junior College at Ellisville, from $240 to $268.

East Mississippi Junior College at Osborn, from $225 to $275, and Coahoma Junior College at Clarksdale, from $275 to $300.

SENSITIVE PARENTING

Adventurous Children Challenge Adults

By Norine Barnes
Child and Family Development Specialist
Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service

Children are unique and do not fit any profile perfectly, however, in the book Please Understand Me: Character and Temperament, the authors outline four different temperament styles. One of these is the sensible, playful or adventurous temperament.

The infants with sensible, playful (adventurous) temperaments are usually well liked by adults. Active, alert and fun loving, these youngsters receive reinforcement for their personality characteristics. They appear interested in a wide variety of things and adults often enjoy them, though sometimes complain about their roaming, impulsive demands.

As preschoolers, they often create challenges for their teachers. They want to be involved in many activities at the same time and their inability to stay quiet for even very short lengths of time makes them less than ideal participants in a highly structured preschool program. In many instances, children with the adventurous temperament do much better in a more loosely structured play group.

Kindergarten is usually successful, provided the curriculum includes a variety of activities and challenges and the teacher is not too demanding. Sensible, playful children still need many opportunities to move about and to try new activities.

Moving into the elementary school program is often difficult for these children, as successful school experiences become more dependent upon the ability to organize and prepare. Adventurous children are often unable to understand the need for careful preparation. Thus, they arrive without pencil or book, paste or crayons to begin a project. Completing projects is often a challenging task.

The spontaneous, fun-loving, impulsive nature of these children cannot be changed easily and living with or teaching them can present an ongoing challenge. But sensible, playful children can grow in healthy ways if given the opportunity to explore lots of things, to have a say in classroom activities or family plans and to be accepted even though they are impatient.

As older, school-age children, they enjoy team playing and competition and accept helpful criticism when it is directed at their actions. Boldness, cleverness and performance are what adventurous children pride themselves on; they feel appreciated when these qualities are noted.

It is estimated that 38 percent of children possess this adventurous temperament style. They often make the dancers, dreamers, athletes and entertainers of the next generation when they are allowed to develop and mature under the direction of understanding adults.

Little Theatre seeking Hancock artists

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre is seeking Hancock County artists and craftsmen to participate in its second annual 'Creating Christmas' show scheduled for Nov. 22 and 23. This annual event celebrating the work of local artists and craftsmen will be staged at the playhouse on Boardman Avenue.

"Twenty-seven exhibitors in the 1985 show were from Hancock County and we expect to exceed that number for this year's event," said Mrs. Becky Rotundo of Bay St. Louis, event chairman.

"We offer a unique arena for exhibiting the works of local artists, a pleasant holiday environment, and enjoy sharing our finds and the interesting stories that lead to their creations," Rotundo added.

According to Mrs. Michael Cuevas, theatre president, "The theatre is the major cultural asset of this city and "Creating Christmas" is only one of the ways we try to promote not only local artists, but our city as well."

"Out-of-town visitors leave the theatre from this event anxious to come back to other events in and around the area, and we make it our business to be informed and to recommend the coming events," Cuevas continued.

Proceeds from the event are used in maintenance and continued restoration of the playhouse.

Funds from the 1985 event were used to re-decorate the lobby, rest room, and backstage dressing rooms.

Local artists interested in participating in "Creating Christmas" may call Rotundo at 467-6371 no later than Sept. 15.

FBI Academy graduates gathered in Jackson

JACKSON - To keep abreast of the latest investigative methods used by professional law enforcement officers across the nation, Mississippi graduates of the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy are convening in Jackson through Friday for a three-day training session.

Included on the program are top law enforcement officials in Mississippi including both the state's U.S. attorneys, commissioner of public safety, special agent in charge of the FBI in Mississippi, and a state supreme court justice, just to name a few," Major Walter Tucker, president of the Mississippi Chapter, Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy Associates, said.

Among the training participants are chiefs of police from various urban and rural police departments, some of the state's 82 sheriffs and more than a dozen Highway Patrol officers.

"Training received at the FBI National Academy in Quantico, Va., is among the best in the world for law enforcement officers. We are grateful to have been afforded the opportunity to graduate from this facility and use the training to benefit the citizens of the state of Mississippi," Tucker said.

Tucker was a member of the 116th session that graduated from the academy in 1979.

"There are more than 200

Mississippi enforcement officers fortunate enough to have been trained at the FBI National Academy at no cost to them or to their departments. However, when the next session begins, each participant or his department will be responsible for paying approximately $2,000 room and board. This policy change is the result of budget cuts," Tucker said.

He said the annual retraining sessions are held to keep current on up-to-date law enforcement practices.

Among the five guest lecturers are Hal Landreth, a special agent with the FBI in North Carolina; Carl Newby, the chief of security for Levi Strauss & Company; John Kitchens of the Mississippi Attorney General's Office; Roger Castonguay, special agent in charge of the FBI in Mississippi, and Al Waites, the legal officer for the FBI in Mississippi.

Pet Corner

"Animals are such agreeable friends - they ask no questions, they pass no criticisms," wrote famous nineteenth century author George Eliot. These are the sentiments of anyone who has ever owned a dog or cat, and the Pets Are Wonderful (PAW) Council has dedicated itself to that wonderful relationship between pets and their owners.

PAW is a national, not-for-profit, public service organization which communicates the many joys and rewards of responsible dog and cat ownership. Founded in 1981, it serves as an information bureau on dogs and cats and the human/companion animal bond - the science of people/pet relationships. PAW supports thousands of humane shelters nationwide in their effort to find homes for millions of pets. It is also committed to furthering humane education by sponsoring consumer education programs to enhance a public awareness and greater understanding of animals and the many ways pets contribute to human health and happiness.

Now available from PAW is a heartwarming book, called The Pets Are Wonderful Family Album. Published by Perigee Books, it can be found in major bookstores, and proceeds from the sales will benefit thousands of animal shelters and humane societies nationwide.

The 150 color and black-and-white photographs featured in The Pets Are Wonderful Family Album were selected from more than 25,000 entries submitted to a national photography contest sponsored by the PAW Council. Page after page of this heartwarming book is filled with delightful photographs, some comical, some poignant, but each one capturing in its depiction of the unique relationship people share with their pets.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) It's "shearing" time for all you Lambs: Cut off false friends who never had your interests at heart. Cut back on expenses too.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Situations that might deter less secure folks never cow determined bovines. Your stand gains you respect and adds to your inner strength.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) A recent decision to expand your activities bumps into a temporary obstacle. Recheck your directions, then start operations up again.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) A changing scene indicates a need for changing methods. Make overtures to new arrivals. Put them at ease.

Leo (July 21-Aug. 22) An organizational crisis looms. Rally supporters for the confrontations being planned by someone who wants to gain ground by grinding your ideas underfoot.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The domestic area dominates. A family member may require more of your time. Help prepare anxious youngsters for the opening of school.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Shop now for the necessities required by family members going off to school or to new jobs. Reassess your own goals as changes develop at work.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Careful. You may be about to set out on a venture without knowing where the hidden risks lie. Ask more questions; you've been too trusting.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Cheer up. That person who says your words will come back to haunt you hasn't a ghost of a chance to change any of your mind.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Ahoy. Get set to change course as new facts emerge and hidden risks become visible. Navigate carefully to avoid mishaps.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) A new venture may seem too risky for others to support. But if you believe in it, go ahead with it. Rely on your gift for seeing what others can't.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A personal triumph follows a period of intense emotional experiences. Your courage is admired by many, including that very special someone.

Weekly state crop report

Drought and heat push down soybean yields and profits

For many of the state's soybean producers, the outlook for profit potential has gone from bad to worse as drought and heat have taken their toll on the state's estimated 2.5-million-acre soybean crop.

There is no doubt right now that we are going to have a short crop of soybeans, said Dr. Wayne Jordan, head of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Agronomy Department.

"At this point, it is doubtful producers will even be able to harvest all of their crops," Jordan said. "The crop in general is in very poor condition."

The agronomist said with the exception of irrigated soybeans and some fields in central and southwest Mississippi most areas are reaching an irreversible point.

Plants that wilt during the day and do not recover during the night have reached the permanent wilting point. At this point there is very little rainfall can do to revive the plants.

"Other plants have just stopped growing because of the low soil moisture," Jordan said. "If the dry, hot weather continues, there won't be much chance of those plants setting very many blooms or making anything at harvest."

The agronomist said the outlook for overall state yields is poor. In 1985 state producers harvested an average of 27 bushels per acre. The five-year state average is 23 bushels per acre.

"Even if we get rain we will be below the 23 bushel state average," Jordan said. "Unless things change for the better we will be around the 20-bushel mark or lower."

In related agriculture news, county extension agents throughout the state reported many row crops to be under drought and heat stress.

In north Mississippi Tippah County agent James Clarke said cotton and soybeans were under stress from the dry weather and rain is needed on all crops and pastures.

DeSoto County agent John Blake said crops and pastures in the county are in desperate need of rain. "Time is a very perishable product in agriculture," he said. "Our crops are in critical condition."

In Quitman County in the Delta, county agent Steve Nelms said the soybean crop is very late and yields are going to be down.

"Cotton is also beginning to hurt from the heat and dry weather," Nelms said. "Fruit is beginning to hit the ground where there is no irrigation."

In Clay County, extension agent

Perry Kimbrough said the soybean crop is showing signs of drought stress. "In some fields developing pods are falling off the stalks," he said.

In central Mississippi, scattered showers have brought relief to most areas reported Attala County agent Thomas Swoope. "A few areas have not had any rain and these areas are showing signs of stress."

In south Mississippi Perry County agent Roger Jones said scattered thunderstorms during the week improved crop conditions, but more rain is still needed.

Pike County agent Paul Singleton said dry, hot weather is taking its toll on row crops and hay fields in the county. "Rain is needed in order for farmers to resume most farm activities," Singleton said.

Bay native retires
from Coast Electric

Robert Occhi, general manager, Coast Electric Power Association announced the retirement of William "Bill" Olson, branch manager of the cooperative's Gulfport office.

Olson began his employment with Coast Electric in 1950. During his 36 year career, he has been in touch with every aspect of providing reliable electric service to Coast Electric members.

Olson's first position was that of right-of-way crewman. In this position, he was part of a six man crew, who were responsible for maintaining the entire Coast Electric distribution system containing over 1,700 miles of right-of-way.

Advancing through the ranks, Olson has held the positions of Construction crewman, Crew Foreman, and Harrison County Construction and Service Coordinator. In 1973, he was promoted to the position of Gulfport Branch Manager, the position held until his retirement July 31, 1986.

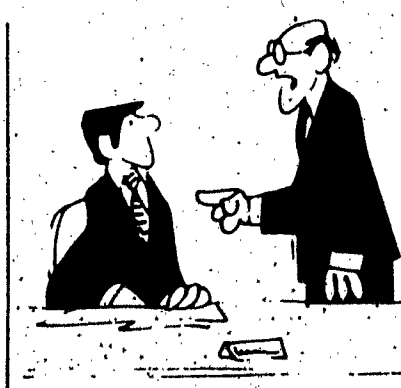

Olson, a Bay St. Louis native, is married to the former Myrtle Green of Evergreen, Ala. He is an active member of the Olivette Baptist Church; has served on the Coast Crime Commission for Harrison County; and is a past member of the Orange Grove Civitan Club.
